New comment on your post #141 "Please be advised: If you ruin our Christmas, we are going to ruin yours!"
response to Guljit:

The kind of Canada we are living in is the kind of Canada where the politicians are enjoying their holiday season, and the GENERAL PUBLIC like us who got caught in Limbo with our cars are monitoring our website to see what fate will hold in store for us and our cars.

We are second class citizens because we were the bad guys who went to the US to buy our Cars even when it was perfectly legal at the time, and then the rules just changed and here we are: sleepless nights, not being able to go see our sick parents when we need to go, because we don't have cars.

It is a very Merry Christmas in the land we call home and Canada.

Thanks you very much Transport Canada and special greetings to the Minister of Transport
